1. Purpose of data access

The data are provided exclusively for non-commercial academic research purposes. The recipient agrees to use the data solely within the scope of scholarly research and not for commercial, marketing, profiling, or surveillance activities.

2. Nature of the data

The shared data consist of anonymized linguistic data derived from publicly available TikTok content (e.g. transcriptions, annotations, or aggregated datasets). No personally identifiable information is included.

3. Data protection and confidentiality

The recipient agrees:

- not to attempt to re-identify any individual;
- not to combine the data with other datasets for identification purposes;
- to store the data securely and restrict access to authorized researchers only.

4. Data sharing restrictions

The recipient may not redistribute, sublicense, or share the data with third parties without prior written permission from the data provider. Any further sharing must be covered by a separate agreement.

5. Compliance and ethics

The recipient agrees to comply with applicable data protection regulations (including GDPR, where applicable), institutional research ethics guidelines, and TikTok Research API Terms.

6. Publications and attribution

Any publications resulting from the use of the data must acknowledge the data provider and must not include content that could lead to the identification of TikTok users.

7. Termination

Upon completion of the research project or upon request by the data provider, the recipient agrees to delete all copies of the data.
